spell Von Janine Z It was really cute. sometimes I couldn't see who is talking right now but after a while figure it out. Anyway, the cover is totally sweet and I like Halloween stories. Imagine you would be a witch (no one knows), bullied your whole life - just because of your hair and that you aren't what others want. And then there is the cutest guy in school who stands up for you. What would you do? It's good that the author wrote about bullying. Because it is an important subject. It is a nice read.

Kurzbeschreibung The moon shines bright for the fifteen year old Caitlyn Cross as she discovers her true identity as a witch. Her mom strictly forbids her to use magic, but being bullied in school because of the way she dresses and her messy orange hair, she has no other escape but her powers. She's always been in love with one boy in school since the fourth grade, the dashing Angelo Pinzon, who comes from a Spanish family with perfect genes. She has been cutely stalking him ever since but enter Phoebe Conway, the spoiled rich mommy's girl who will make her junior year a burden and hinder her from happiness. With all the madness and drama in school, partnered with her uncontrollable powers, Caitlyn finds out about her destiny and learns to fall in love for the very first time.
