Von N.R. Walker : Ten in the Bin (English Edition) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Ten in the Bin (English Edition):

I would have wished to get to know more about the boys . Sequel please ?1 von 1 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. Waste of timeVon amygdalaThis was just.. Meh. Lacking in every single area. The only reason I managed to finish this at all is because it was, fortunately, a very short read.I really don't get what the appeal is here.There's no substance, no plot (or maybe a very, very flat one.. if you squint, that is). Instead there are characters seemingly with no personality at all. Duh. The writing is not exactly bad per se, but it's far from good. I know, a one star rating is harsh. You could probably argue that a non-plot is better than one that you detest -- which, true or not, is why I'm bumping it up to 1.5 stars. But, all in all, I can't help it, this was a total miss and a major waste of time for me. 1 von 1 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. Flache Story. Von SchroederhaFlache Story. Die Character bleiben blass und die wenigen und eher oberflächlich geschilderten Sexszenen hinterlassen keinen bleibenden Eindruck. Nicht empfehlenswert

Kurzbeschreibung**12,800 word short story. Gay romance. Originally published 2013. No new content has been added.**Heartbroken, Dean Cartwright leaves Sydney and heads home, to the coastal town of Newcastle. In a bid to make new friends, he signs up for a local rugby league team where he meets a man known as Macca. Dean and Macca are both front row forwards, meaning they're the biggest guys on the team. Over six feet tall and over a hundred kilos each, they're a force to be reckoned with. But when Dean gets knocked out, Macca gets even by punching the other guy, and both Dean and Macca end up on the sideline. Dean soon realizes that being knocked unconscious is the best thing to ever happen to him. Kurzbeschreibung**12,800 word short story. Gay romance. Originally published 2013.
