Courtesy of Teens Read TooVon TeensReadTooWhat would you do if when you woke up in the morning, you were in another world? A world where you didn't know the rules. A world where dangers lurk in every corner.And then you find out that you are the key to saving this world and you need to pick a side.This is what happens to Diamond "Dai" Gold.When the story opens, she is going to prom with her best friend and a hunky date. After prom, they go to a cabin in the woods and she goes to sleep. The next morning she is in a different world.There she meets the Eroe, a group of warriors who have many different talents. And they are all CUTE! She is dressed in silks and satins just like she was a princess. Adventure takes over and Dai finds herself in many dangerous situations where she is rescued by a boy who she finds irresistible - Westly.Now she has to decide who she can trust and who to love.This was a good book but is very long. It reminded me a lot of TWILIGHT, in that it has the adventure and the romance. This would be a great book for a hot, lazy summer day. So read it and escape into the world of Dai and Westly. Reviewed by: Marta Morrison

Kurzbeschreibung To return home, all she has to do is end a war. The ancient prophecies say she is the chosen one. The oracle says she is blessed by the goddess Ai. The Ero warriors say she is the only one who can defeat the darkness threatening to consume their world. Dai Gold just wants to find her best friend and return home. But Dai can't help being enchanted by the somehow familiar world. And the longer she remains, the more she finds herself falling in love with it and with one of the Ero. Only the Malo know Dai has arrived. And they are willing to do whatever it takes to make her theirs. To possess her once and for all. In this strange new world, Dai discovers more than her destiny. She discovers her past. And just how twisted the threads of fate are.
