

(Ebook pdf) The Red Pavilion (English Edition)

The Red Pavilion (English Edition)

Von Jean Chapman

ebooks | Download PDF | *ePub | DOC | audiobook

DOWNLOAD

+

READ ONLINE

Produktinformation - Verkaufsrang: #712353 in eBooks Veröffentlicht am: 2015-03-10 Erscheinungsdatum: 2015-03-10 File Name: B00UJK8VXE | File size: 24.Mb

Von Jean Chapman : The Red Pavilion (English Edition) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Red Pavilion (English Edition):

Kundenrezensionen Hilfreichste Kundenrezensionen 0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. Etwas langfdig und sehr voraus schaubar. Von Evelyne Perriard Die Geschichte spielt in Malaysia nach dem Krieg. Es geht um 2 Frauen, Mutter und Tochter, die zurck auf ihre Gummiplantage kommen und ein Land im Griff der kommunistischen Rebellen vorfinden. Es handelt in der Folge von Liebe in gefährlicher Zeit, viel Soldatenjargon und langweilige Beschreibungen der Umstände im Dschungel, die sich oft wiederholen. Die Romanze führt durch viele Hindernisse und man glaubt der Heldin ihre Aktionen nicht wirklich. Leichte Lektüre, wenn man das Land Malaysia mag und sich nicht sträuben will am voranschreitenden Plot.

Kurzbeschreibung Malaya, 1948. Liz Hammond and her mother Blanche are returning to the rubber plantation they were forced to abandon at the outbreak of war. The beautiful Malayan jungle and exotic estate of her childhood have remained in Liz's heart even after she was forced to leave it for the security of England in the war years. But as Liz and Blanche travel out to Singapore they are met with tales of Communist uprisings, violence, banditry and, most ominously, Liz's father's disappearance. Under the military protection of Major Sturgess and a young guardsman, Alan, they try to track Mr Hammond down. Liz quickly falls for Alan, but she knows she can't let her love for him overshadow her concern for her missing father. She struggles with reconciling the treacherous country she now finds herself in with the paradise of her youth. And she no longer knows who she can trust. Old friends are called into question and new friends are shadowed with doubt as this tense plot unwinds with love, heartache and action. The Red Pavilion is a moving drama that was short-listed for the Romantic Novel of the Year Award. Jean Chapman is a British writer of romance novels and a lecturer in creative writing. Her debut novel "The Unreasoning Earth" was both shortlisted for the Parker Pen Romantic Novel of the Year Award. She is also the author of The Savage Legacy. Endeavour Press is the UK's leading independent publisher of digital books.

Kurzbeschreibung Malaya, 1948. Liz Hammond and her mother Blanche are returning to the rubber plantation they were forced to abandon at the outbreak of war. The beautiful Malayan jungle and exotic estate of her childhood have remained in Liz's heart even after she was forced to leave it for the security of England in the war years. But as Liz and Blanche travel out to Singapore they are met with tales of Communist uprisings, violence, banditry and, most ominously, Liz's father's disappearance. Under the military protection of Major Sturgess and a young guardsman, Alan, they try to track Mr Hammond down. Liz quickly falls for Alan, but she knows she can't let her love for him overshadow her concern for her missing father. She struggles with reconciling the treacherous country she now finds herself in with the paradise of her youth. And she no longer knows who she can trust. Old friends are called into question and new friends are shadowed with doubt as this tense plot unwinds with love, heartache and action. The Red Pavilion is a moving drama that was short-listed for the Romantic Novel of the Year Award. Jean Chapman is a British writer of romance novels and a lecturer in creative writing. Her debut novel "The Unreasoning Earth" was both shortlisted for the Parker Pen Romantic Novel of the Year Award. She is also the author of The Savage Legacy. Endeavour Press is the UK's leading independent publisher of digital books.

Synopsis Malaya, 1948 - Liz Hammond and her mother Blanche are returning to the rubber plantation they were forced to abandon at the outbreak of war. Liz's father has arranged to meet them in Singapore, but he fails to do so and the two women have to make their way to Malaya under military protection.